Your wedding day is one of the most special days of your life. You're the centre of attention and all eyes (and cameras) are on you and choosing your make-up look is every bit as important as choosing your dress. No two brides are the same and having a professional make-up artist tailor a look specifically for you lifts the stress and lets you relax and enjoy the morning of your wedding knowing that you are going to be the most beautiful and confident on your special day. A trial for your wedding day is essential to achieve the perfect look. Your trial will include a consultation on your skin type, colour themes and make-up ideas for the day, then you can relax while together we tailor a look specifically for you. It is advisable to have your trial in the morning or afternoon so you can see your look in natural daylight and feel confident that your make-up will still be picture perfect long into the evening.

A few wee tips for your trial:

1. If you plan on being tanned for your wedding then wear some tan for your trial.
2. If you plan to wear your hair up for your wedding then wear it up for your trial.
3. Wear a white top as strong colours can reflect onto your face and influence the look of your make-up.
4. Have a look through some magazines/websites and find me some pictures of make-up that you love. It always helps me to see what your tastes are as no two people's descriptions of natural and dramatic are the same. It's also a great starting point for us.

On your wedding day I will come to you, whether at home or at the venue itself. Times will be arranged prior to the wedding day and then all you have to do is sit back, relax and let me do all the work. Used extensively in the TV and film industry airbrush make-up is proving a firm favourite with brides for it's flawless, long lasting and natural finish. Wedding packages are available using either regular or airbrush make-up. Rates available on request.

For brides getting married abroad I can help you create a beautiful look that you can recreate on your big day. With a full write up and pictures for your own personal reference.
